

Padmanaban P, MSW (NET – JRF), PGDGC

Assistant Professor of Social Work

DR.BCCC Hindu College

Mail Id: padmanabanp@drbccchinducollege.edu.in

Phone No: 9841436514

Padmanaban P is a highly qualified social work professional and researcher currently pursuing a Ph.D. at Bishop Heber College, with a strong academic foundation, he holds an MSW in Medical and Psychiatric Social Work from DR.B.C.C.C Hindu college, where he graduated with a first-class distinction and secured a University rank (31st). His academic excellence is further highlighted by his qualification for the UGC NET/JRF in 2015, marking him as a Junior Research Fellow. His primary doctoral research focuses on the deviant behaviour of school children, building upon his previous graduate studies regarding patient rights and recruitment processes.

His professional experience includes significant roles in both academia and the corporate sector. Padmanaban has served as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Social Work at both Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science and DR.BCCC Hindu College, handling subjects like Social Work Research and Statistics and Psychiatric Social Work Practice. As a researcher, he has contributed significantly to the field with multiple publications in the Journal of Management and Science and the International Journal of Current Research. His published work covers critical social issues, including menstrual hygiene, mental health support for transgender women and life skill education.

Padmanaban is deeply committed to community service and continuous service and continuous professional development, evidenced by his participation in over a dozen specialized workshops on research methodology and social intervention. His practical expertise is grounded in extensive field work with organizations such as Help Age India, SCARF and Sri Ramachandra Medical Centre. Beyond his personal research, he has demonstrated leadership by guiding seven MSW students through their final year research projects and conducting awareness programs on narcotic drug usage and environmental importance. Fluent in Tamil and English, he combines analytical research skills with strong organizational abilities to contribute effectively to social development.